While the deceased practiced at Luthersburg, which was from 1834 to 1864, his field covered four counties, and he made frequent visits to Bennezzette, Curwensville, Reynoldsville and down in the vicinity of Punxsutawney. F. K. Arnold attended the funeral Saturday afternoon at Dubois. The remains were interred at Luthersburg.

A Benedict.

Chas. J. Bangert, the hustling editor of the Falls Creek Herald, decided that man should not live alone, and has taken unto himself a helpmate on life's tempestuous sea of joys, sorrows and disappointments. The maiden who has joined hands with Charley was known, up to Wednesday, Nov. 7th, as Miss Rachel Hopkins, who was numbered with Penfield's fair daughters. The ceremony that bound the twain as one was performed at Limestone, N. Y. From Limestone the groom and bride went to Buffalo, Erie and Philadelphia on a wedding trip. Mr. Bangert and wife will board at Hotel Evergreen for a month until the family that occupies the rooms over the Herald office vacate and they will then move into the rooms. THE STAR extends contratulations and best wishes.

Home Again.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Smith, who have been living at Oakdale Station, near Pittsburg, for several years, returned to Reynoldsville last week and moved into the old home on Railroad street. This couple are numbered with the "old inhabitants" of this town. They raised a good sized family of boys and girls, but the children have grown up and left the parental roof for homes of their own, and now, in their old days, they have to borrow grandchildren to lavish their affections upon. A granddaughter accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Smith from Oakdale. Hon. William Orlando Smith, editor of the Punxsutawney Spirit, and Jefferson County's Assemblyman, is a son of this couple. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are welcomed back to the town where they have lived so long.

Geography Party.

Misses Maggie and Julia Stoke gave a "geography party" at the home of H. Alex. Stoke last Wednesday evening in honor of their cousin, Miss Ella Weaver, of Clarion. Forty-five young people attended the party, which was a complete success. About the midnight hour refreshments were served that would please the most fastidious epicurean. Each person present had something pinned on them that represented a city, town, state, river or lake, and a stick pin was offered as a prize to the person who guessed the highest number of these. Chas. Feicht carried off the prize. A fancy pitcher was the prize for the lady that could do the best whistling, which was awarded to Miss Lotta Sutter, and the booby prize—a whistle—was given to Miss Ella Sealey. A mustache cup was the prize for the best sewing by a gentleman. Joe Geisler got the cup, and Isaac Swartz got the booby prize—a thimble and needle. All who attended speak highly of the party. Such parties not only furnish amusement for the young people, but they become better acquainted with the country in which they live.

Experience Party.

Some time ago the trustees of the M. E. church adopted the experience card pledge to raise some money to liquidate a debt they owe. The amounts of the pledges were fifty cents and one dollar. Those who took a card were to try and make the amount their card called for out of the unusual way of getting money, and of course if they could not make it in some unusual way they were expected to pay the amount. The trustees tried to get a card to every member of the congregation, and those who could not be seen personally, the cards were mailed to. Last Wednesday evening was the time set for handing in the cards and money and telling how the money was made. Quite a crowd attended the meeting. The experiences of how the money was procured were amusing. Some husked corn, cut tops of turnips, wheeled trunks, blackened shoes, begged, sold bottles, pulled teeth, built pig pen, sold badges for a political demonstration, sold ice cream, baked cakes, sold old iron, &c., &c. A number who have cards did not get out Wednesday evening, but the trustees have their names, and the cards and money will be received at any time the people want to give them. The trustees expect every person who kept their card to pay the amount it calls for.

Dishonest People.

Every community has certain families that are always looking for a chance to beat some person, or take advantage of every person in law to get the best of some person that is inclined to treat all persons as honest. Reynoldsville has a few such persons and Hopkins Mill has at least one. It is dishonest transactions that is working against the deserving honest poor, who have no one to back them up or give them a chance to succeed. Let a man be deceived a few times and he is suspicious ever after of all men. If the old proverb: "Honesty is the best policy," was more strictly adhered to, how much better it would be, especially for those who have no means and depend on some other person to do much for them.

Sunday Law to be Enforced.

A petition signed by one hundred and fifty citizens was presented to the council on Monday evening, urging Sunday closing of cigar and tobacco stores and other places where merchandise is sold. The petitioner referred to the fact that our wives, sisters and mothers were greatly interested in beautifying the town, but said the permanency of all institutions depends upon the faithful observance of law, and unless Sabbath desecration was abolished the improvements of which we were justly proud would not be permanent, and he, therefore, urged upon Council the necessity of speedy and effective action.—Clearfield Journal.

After $400,000.

The Greensburg Press says that Capt. J. M. Lightcap, of Latrobe, representing Nathaniel Dehaven, a revolutionary patriot, who loaned the Continental Congress $400,000, is making a vigorous effort to recover the sum. In 1858 Congress passed an act to refund the money, but when the war came on it was neglected. The act still stands on record, and Capt. Lightcap is confident the next Congress will make appropriation.

E. DeHaven, of this place, is one of the heirs and will get a snug sum if Congress makes an appropriation.

The Dubois Courier served notices on the people of that town Monday morning that hereafter that paper has a limit line for free notices for entertainments, churches and society meetings. Anything over the amount specified by the Courier will be charged for. This is right, and a good step to take. There are too many people who do not even support a paper by subscribing for it—but borrow their neighbor's—who are not backward about asking favors from the newspapers.
